OUR TOWN

Daylight Saving is Causing Confusion in Narberth

"Our Town" Publishes List of Church Times

As was inevitable with the mixed up legal situation, the time of the various communities in Pennsylvania is very badly confused.

Narberth shares that confusion. At the present writing, Friday morning, the Governor has not signfied whether or not he will sign the Derrick bill. If he does, it is probable that Philadelphia will not take any central action to shift the time, but will leave it up to the individual firms.

Narberth has already made preparations to put daylight saving in effect on Sunday, and Council expects to pass a resolution to that effect at its next meeting. At the present time, the various local activities are in somewhat of a quandary.

"Our Town" asked a number of bodies what they intended to do. The results were:

On Daylight Saving

The Presbyterian Church
The Baptist Church
The Methodist Church
The Episcopal Church
Borough Council
The Schools.

On Standard Time

St. Margaret's Church.

No Report

The Lutheran Church.

It appears from these statements that Narberth will go on Daylight Saving time voluntarily. The Railroad has already shifted its schedule effective next Sunday to a Daylight Saving basis, and most of the firms of the city will take the step voluntarily.

It is certain that the people of Narberth are overwhelmingly in favor of the late hour of daylight. The Tennis Club, Twilight Baseball, gardening and motoring interests include nearly everybody in the Brough, and the changed time is of great value to them.

No matter what the outcome is, there is going to be confusion without end. You will have to ask a man "Daylight or Standard Time?" every time he mentions some specific hour. If the governor vetoes the Derrick bill, it will lessen the confusion somewhat near the big cities, but will increase it in the rural communities, so no matter which way we look at it, it is a disagreeable mess.

The only solution is for the States to get together and change the time in an entire time belt, making it uniform and compulsory. State action is pure meddling, for with Pennsylvania on one time, and New York on the other, half of the populace will be nervous wrecks by fall.

However, it appears that Narberth is for the change, so don't forget to go to bed an hour earlier tonight, and to look over the list above to find out what time to go to your pet Church tomorrow.

"QUIG" WILL BE PRESENTED TO-NIGHT

The comedy "Quig," presented by the Young People's Society of the Baptist Church will be put on tonight at the Church by an all-star cast. According to advance reports it will be the success of the local season. Charles Kremer will play the lead opposite to Miss Verna Maltby, as the beautiful heroine. Edwin Coggeshall is expected to follow his forthcoming success in a heavy character part by joining the Paramount staff, while Alice Maltby is expected to remain on the legitimate stage. We have not been able to learn the future plans of John Hillegas who likewise plays an important role. Other notables in the cast are Beth Houston, Charlotte Super, Gertrude Carter, and Jack Peters.

TENNIS STARS ENTERTAINED

After the dance last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. R. Evans entertained Mr. and Mrs. James C. McKell, Mr. Manuel and Mr. Jose Alonso, the Spanish Davis Cup Tennis Team, Mr. Paul W. Gibbons, President of the Phila. Tennis Association, Mr. A. L. Beatty, and Mr. Norman Berry.

Girl Scouts Now to Take Stage

Operetta at School Next Friday Night

Do you want to be brought back to the days when you sat at mother's knee and listened in big-eyed wonder to the tales of beautiful ladies and noble knights?—or the times when you picked up your book of fairy tales and sneaked off to read under a shade tree or up in the attic?

Come and see the Narberth Girl Scouts in their first appearance before the public in "Cinderella in Flowerland."

Myriads of beautiful sunbeams and darling little raindrops sing and dance through the entire performance, while Marian Henry, a dainty fairy, sings with untold sweetness and dances to the magic music. Twelve beautiful blossoms and the birds and the bumble bees and the butterflies singing, buzzing, and flying through the picturesque stage setting—add a great deal of charm and uniqueness to the play.

Ann Speed is a handsome Prince Charming and a perfect lover, and Ella Ross, our little heroine, is as beautiful and modest and retiring as ever a Daisy could be. And when you see that little Godmother wave her fairy wand and in the twinkling of any eye create a princess, you will begin to believe in fairies all over again. Don't miss this show. 40 of our little Narberth girls are in it, and you may never have another opportunity to see Cinderella put one over on her proud sisters (who are Virginia Burgstresser and Virginia Eyre) and win the Prince via the glass slipper.

Friday evening, May 4, at 8 P. M., in the High School Auditorium.

LEGION ENDORSES FIRE COMPANY'S PLAN

Hope To Enlarge Elm Hall

For some time past, the Fire Company has planned an extension to Elm Hall, and part of this new wing is to be placed to the disposal of the American Legion. It was felt by members of the Fire Company that the local Legion Post should have a meeting place wholly their own, and that they could provide one in connection with their previously planned building arrangement.

During the last meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved that the Harold D. Speakman Post No. 356, American Legion, of Narberth, Pennsylvania, in meeting duly convened on February 26th, 1923, endorses the project of The Narberth Fire Company to enlarge the facilities of Elm Hall so as to afford quarters for the Post and for other community uses. We ask that The Fire Company be given full support by the residents of Narberth and vicinity."

By the word support the members of the Legion mean of course both moral and financial support. For some time past the Fire Company has been calling for associate members whose dues are the nominal sum of $3.50 a year, and it has been no great burden to those who have joined. It seems a very little thing to ask of a citizen of this Borough that he support the Fire Company. Not all of us are in a position to serve actively, but we are all in a position to serve financially and provide, as it were, the sinews of war. The provisions of the underwriters are becoming more severe and the Company is forced to buy new equipment in order to keep your insurance rate down. Finally when your house is on fire, you want the Fire Company to run to your aid, why not send a check to their aid now?

Scouts Played to Crowded House

Many Turned Away from Annual Minstrel Event

When the night of the long-heralded Scouts' Minstrel Show came around, Elm Hall was filled to capacity. Over a hundred people were turned away at the door, and invited to come back the next night when the performance was to be repeated in Ardmore at the Palace Theatre. The show was a great success both artistically and financially. A ticket sale of over five hundred proves the one and the pleased comments of the audience proves the other. The actual number of admiring relatives and citizens who crowded the hall was four hundred and seventy-six, of which a good third were children. If it hadn't been for the fire laws, more people could have been seated. Even as it was, they seemed to be dripping from the walls. Even the window sills were used.

The chorus of boys was the most signicant feature of the performance. We are seldom given the pleasure of hearing such a well-trained chorus. They formed a very pleasing background with their red huntsman coats and shiny boots to the fantastically-dressed line of minstrels.

The show would not have been what it was, if it hadn't been for Mr. F. C. Patten. He not only coached and directed the production, but he took part in it as well. Mr. S. V. Fletcher and he put on a very amusing black-face skit, and Mr. Patten showed his musical calibre by a cornet solo and by a concert on a weird instrument which looked like a row of tin cans and sounded like a xylophone.

Mr. Fred C. Patten, Scoutmaster of the local troop, was musical director, and master of ceremonies for the minstrel show. Another Mr. Patton, Field Executive of the Boy Scouts, lent official dignity to the occasion.

There was a magician, too. Contrary to general opinion, his name is Paige and not Thurston, and he is a local man. There was a movie travelogue between the acts, and a good orchestra to complete a very enjoyable evening. After the show, the chairs were quickly cleared back for the dance that followed.

The personnel of the event included many names, both of actors and of those behind the scenes. These were:

Interlocutor—William Parker.

Ends—Donald Brown, Robert Patten, William Mitchell, Jack Hastings, Wells Wanamaker, Alfred Odiorne, Ben Lanahan, and David Speck.

Ballads—Robert Vallette, Bertram Taylor, Alec Purring, Donald Taylor, Stanley Nickerson.

Chorus—John Timm, Irvin Dothard, Kenneth Emmet, Donald Taylor, Byron Morton, Gustave Bertram, Jack Ferguson, Carson Green, Horace Sheneman, George Maguire, Donald Laird, John Jones, Worcester Jones, William Crowell, Eugene Lane, Bernard Yungbluth.

Ushers—Allen Claghorn, Edwin Wolf, George Bottoms, Robert Dothard.

Stage Manager—Atherton Lane.

Property Man—Joseph Snyder.

Advertising—Thomas Merkel.

Costumes—Carl Metzger.

Curtain—Herbert Burrell.

There are always a lot of people behind the scenes who are just as important to the success of an affair like this, but who do not, as a rule, reap the same harvest of appreciation as the actors themselves. The Scoutmaster's Committee probably is one of the reasons for the success of the production. Rev. Richard F. Cowley helped by very kindly lending chairs. Mr. E. K. Monnington, the publicity man of the scouts, did much to assure assure attendance by his tireless work. The Scouts and the public want to thank these and others for their co-operation.

A BENEFIT BY REQUEST

"The Yellow Jacket"

The now famous cast of "The Yellow Jacket" will again make its appearance on the evening of May 8, at the Palace Theatre, Ardmore. There were quite a number of Club members who did not see the Act when it was put on before the Community Club, and there were a number of women from other clubs who were guests on that day and did see it.

That is the reason that they have asked that another showing be given, so that husbands and friends may see this bright and fanciful Chinese play.

In order to give a full evening's entertainment there will be other features: a tango as danced by Rudolph Valentino and wife, a group of old fashioned songs, and a skefch, "The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington.

The Palace Theatre is roomy, comfortable and no further away than the movies, so jump on the train, or motor there on May 8, and you'll get your money's worth. Fifty-five cents, including tax, will admit you.

Big Tennis Event to Come Here

Finals in Boys' Matches at Narberth

The committee in charge of the annual Philadelphia Interscholastic Junior and Boys' Singles' and Doubles' Championship which was scheduled to start on the Narberth Tennis Club courts on Monday next, April 30th, have had to change the original plans to some extent. The entries have been so numerous that it was impossible to play them off on the local courts and complete the Tournament in the week. The Committee decided to play the first two rounds on courts in various sections of the city, and then play the later rounds, semi-finals and finals on the Narberth Courts. Weather permitting, play will start on the local Courts on Thursday next, May 3rd, and continue till completed. This will be more interesting as the better players will have survived the earlier rounds and by the time they get to Narberth, some very fine matches should be scheduled. All the stars are expected to be on hand, including Sandy Wiener, protege of Wm. T. Tilden, 2nd, World Champion.

The Narberth Tennis Club Courts are now being prepared, and it is expected to have them all ready to play on by Saturday, April 28th, which will be good news to the members who will undoubtedly be on hand to use them. Considerable alterations are being made to the Club House and will be rushed to completion as quickly as possible. These include new locker rooms, ladies' room, kitchen and various other improvements, which are going to add greatly to the comfort of the members.

Applications for membership are coming in fast, so that anyone interested in joining should get their application in quickly before the limit placed on the membership is reached, after which application will be put on a waiting list.

A SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

The Tennis Club dance last Saturday was one of the most popular of the season as there was a large and happy attendance, the ladies looked their prettiest, and the music was very much in favor judging from the vociferous applause for encores. It hardly seemed possible that Elm Hall could be so transformed, but John Wine did the trick, following out an orange and black color scheme very effectively. Among those present were the Alonzo Brothers, tennis champions of Spain, and they have already stated they are coming to the next. Mr. Paul Gibbons was there also, and he, too, is coming to the May party.

The next party will be about the middle of May, and elaborate plans are now being made to have the May dance the best of the series, as it is the last one of the season. Those attending will be most fortunate.

GREAT MAY FETE NEXT BIG EVENT

The next big event in Narberth promises to be the Great May Fete at the Y. M. C. A. during the week-end of May 18-19th. A schedule of the varied attractions combined in this enterprise reads almost like a combined summer travel and department store announcement. The May Fete will be the one place you most want to be on that week-end, and when you get there you can have nearly anything you want, but mostly fun and surprises.

The Great May Fete is the creation of a committee of ladies of the Baptist Church, and a lot of their friends who have gotten together to see just how many new and original ideas can be combined into one enterprise. It's for the whole town, grown ups and kiddies you can find out about all the secrets the ladies will not divulge. It is something like a fairy land where you can bring the kiddies and turn them loose in charge of competent fairy matrons while you are free to enjoy the fun with the grown ups without any worries.

And that is only one of a lot of secrets about the Great May Fete. Promise the kiddies if they will be good until May 18th that you will take them to the Fairy Land at the Great May Fete. And when you bring the kiddies you can find out about all the things for grown ups.

The ladies in charge of some of the affairs of the Great May Fete are: Mrs. J. Henry Knapp, Jr., Chairman; Mrs. H. W. Monks, Vice Chairman; Mrs. H. C. Keim, Grocery Dept.; Miss Laura Hopper, Novelties; Miss Maizie Simpson, Cakes; Mrs. Charlton G. Standeford, Candy; Mrs. Horace Smedley and Mrs. Wm. Durbin, Decorations; Mrs. Lindley Trotter, Flowers; and in charge of a lot of secrets, Mrs. Avery Demmy, Mrs. Wm. Jones, Mrs. F. C. Mohrfeld, Mrs. Warren Tyson; Needed Articles, Mrs. P. R. Graves. The ladies will be assisted in some of the heavy work by Mr. F. R. Mitchell, Ice Cream counter, and Mr. Frederick Herman, Delicatessan Supper, than whom there is no "than whomer" amateur chef in all Narberth.

SPECIAL MUSIC

You are invited to the monthly musical service of the Methodist Choir on Sunday evening, April 29th, at 7.45.

The chorus will sing Dudley Buck's "Festival Te Deum," and "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say," Bathbun.

The program will also include "Come Unto Me," Rockwell, Mixed Quartet, and "Ashamed of Jesus," Male Quartet.

Clean Up Campaign in Our Town Next Week

Rubbish will be Collected by Borough Teams

CLEAN UP! PAINT UP! will be the word in Narberth beginning next Monday the 30th, and lasting until Saturday, the 5th. Of course we will try to keep our town looking its prettiest all the year 'round, but it has for many years been the custom for Borough Council to provide a means of disposing of rubbish that accumulates around our houses and gardens at this time.

Clean up the garden, rake up the leaves and brush and pile them on the compost heap, unless you prefer to dig them in the soil. Or you might burn the garden rubbish as many do. If you do burn rubbish please have a little consideration for your neighbors and don't make your smoke on washday, and don't make an open fire that will blow around on your neighbors' shingle roof, rubbish burners are still being made and cost little. CLEAN UP.

Clean up the attic—that place where you poke things that you might need but never do, next week is your chance to get rid of the junk. CLEAN UP.

Clean up the cellar, rubbish accumulates there, get rid of the last of the ashes from the heater and fix up the cellar like a basement and keep it all dolled up until the ashes get working again next winter.

White wash the cellar. It will look clean, be lighter, smell clean and be cleaner. CLEAN UP—PAINT UP—SHINE UP.

Get the fly screens out, paint 'em up pretty, you may need some new ones or at least some new wire.

Get the painters busy on the outside, and on the inside too, unless you are a member of the Paint and Varnish Club. Remember—Save the Surface and You Save All.

Get after the garbage pail—it may need a new one. Flies like garbage pails, especially old ones. Get an early start on the flies, or rather don't let them get an early start on you.

Get after the little puddles and old tin cans and such where mosquitoes are getting ready to hatch out a million or so. Stop the mosquitos before they start.

Give the whole house a good airing, beat and air the rugs, get the winter draperies down and the summer ones ready.

CLEAN UP! PAINT UP! SHINE UP.

Oh yes! The windows! They must be shined up too.

And when you have finished all the house and Narberth is shining outside and inside, pile up all the rubbish near the "basement" steps or near the "basement" windows and let "George" do the rest.

Yes "George" will do it. That is all a part of the plan.

Your Borough Council has arranged to have any quantity and all manner of junk and rubbish removed from your place. Where does it go? You should wory. It goes.

Where will it go next year? That is something else for "George" to arrange.

It can't all be done on one day, so a schedule has been arranged—the Winter Ash Collection Schedule.

The teams will collect on the following streets on the days given:

Monday—Windsor Avenue from Wynnewood Road to Dudley Avenue, Conway Avenue, Dudley Avenue, Narbrook Park Wynnewood Road, Sabine Avenue, Wynnewood Court, Montgomery Avenue from Wynnewood to Stepney Place, Shady Lane, Wynnedale Avenue, Stepney Place, Elm Terrace, west side of Essex Avenue from Montgomery to Haverford.

Tuesday—East side of Essex Avenue, from Montgomery to Haverford, Forest Avenue, North Narberth Avenue, Wayne Avenue, Grayling Avenue, Montgomery Avenue from Stepney Place to Woodbine Avenue, Windsor Avenue from Essex to Narberth Avenues.

Wednesday—Haverford Avenue, Montgomery Avenue from Woodbine to Haverford Avenues, Woodbine Avenue, Hampden Avenue, Iona Avenue, Windsor Avenue from Narberth to Iona Avenues.

Thursday—All South side.

The collection will be made in the order given, but should the collection be unusually heavy, the work may be delayed a day, but fear not—it will all be cleaned up before Sunday.

DO YOUR BIT. CLEAN UP. PAINT UP. SHINE UP.

THE TOWER OF BABBLE

By Collum Righter

THE TOWER OF BABBLE
By Collum Righter
WILLOW WHIMSEY

Thoughts eternal, dreams supernal
Fill the minds of those who in Springtime
Oft beneath the willow tree repose.

oOo

Tree of sadness! naught but songs of gladness
Have their birth where thy lace-like,
Leafyladen branches brush the earth.

oOo

Willow, why weep'st thou? From grieving? No!
Thy tears to me indicate thy joy, not sorrow.
Sad mismomers thee.

oOo

Gently whispering willow, tell thy secret sweet.
Be free to confide in those who linger
At thy feet, Oh tree!

We consider these lines particularly beautiful (to say nothing of appropriate) at this time of the year. The person responsible for them informs us they are a fragmentary translation from the Japanese of Tama Koragashi. This we cannot dispute, even though we would waive a square meal to be able to do so. We will remark though, the poem is in our estimation a jo-mightiful sight more than a fragment; it is in reality a full sized chunk.

* * *

While on the subject it will do no harm to inform our beloved readers weeping willows hold us spell-bound, enraptured, speechless, pie-eyed and several other things. They are so graceful, so lissome; in a word they are the dainty arboreal nymphs of the woodland. But, my! how they do mess up lawns in the Fall. Those who have them on their estates will bear us out in this.

* * *

There is a magnificent specimen of Salix Babylonica (if this name is off, blame the Editor) not so far from the closet where we park our shoes. Its "lace-like leafy-laden branches" brushed the earth too in times gone by. We loved to watch them. But the march of Progress plus a hand saw under the direction of a gentleman exceedingly capable in many things, removed the limbs that did the brushing. That is the way of the world. Sic semper what-do-you-call-it!

Before this "march of progress" mentioned above it was an easy task and a safe one as well to sprawl out beneath the tree, comtemplate the "dome ethereal" and get a mind full of the special brands of thoughts and dreams stipulated by T. Koragashi, together with an ear full of numerous things including black ants. Not now, however—not now! Should one essay the rapturous pose now, they'd in all liklihood be Sedanned to death backwards in less time than it takes to tell of it.

One of our insane friends burbled with glee over what he termed The Vanguard of Spring's approach. Vanguard of Spring your Grandmother's night-cap! Vandalguard fits better, we think. Everytime the dog-woods blossom, every time the fruit trees burst forth, every time those modest violets lift their heads or dandelions give their touches of gold to the earth's verde-carpet, some childish or middle-aged or full-grown yap breaks them off or tears them asunder or pulls them up regardless of results. And then with barbaric audacity drags forth celery jars, vases, ginger ale bottles, et cetera, stuffs the loot into 'em and then stands back to admire the decorative effect of his or her ruthlessness.

What is more forlorn appearing than a wounded tree or a burglarized bush or a plundered plant? Why is it such things must happen due to the vandalism of a moment's fancy? We hope we'll live to see the Garden Club and Hon. Stites parents to legislation making this so horrble and so un-necessary spring Eve of St. Bartholomew a crime and a misdemeanor with a list of penalties back of it big enough to scuttle the Leviathan.

* * *

Although it is obviously unusual, nevertheless off come both our hats to the entire coterie of Boro horticultural devotees whose efforts made these pages look like a seed catalog from Heaven last week. The epidemic caught us neatly. We have not been the same since. Everything around the house is flower seeds, vegetable plants, sheep manure, bone meal, garden tools and then some more garden tools. And every one of them seems to have seventeen different handles to trip over. Yesterday morning in our excitement we poured out a bowl of canary bird seed and had the cream on it before discovering it wasn't grape nuts.* The back and front grasserie and mudderie encompassing the palatial manse where we are permitted to live have been dry-cleaned, scoured and pressed until they look as though by the grace of Providence and fifty thousand dollars worth of marchandise du Wohlert we ought to have a show place in twenty years or so.

Hats off! For Spring is passing by!

(*Editors' Note: We wondered why Collum Righter was singing so cheerily when we stopped at his house for the copy this morning.)

HALF A MILLION MILES OF NEW WIRE WILL BE ADDED TO THE BELL TELEPHONE SYSTEM IN PENNSYLVANIA THIS YEAR

THAT'S an increase of twenty per cent. in the total Bell wire mileage in the state.

This new wire alone would encircle the earth at the equator twenty times. It would reach the length of the state of Pennsylvania more than 1600 times.

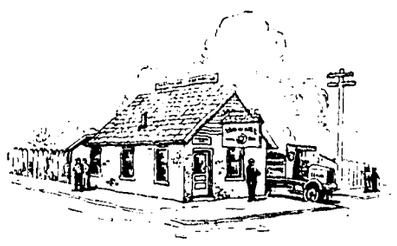

More wire was placed in 1922 than in any previous year. We will place nearly twice as much in 1923.

This is one phase of our effort to meet the demand for telephone service in Pennsylvania.

STRANGER THAN FICTION

We have all heard that "truth is stranger than fiction." And isn't it so? If our forefathers had been told of the comforts and advantages that gas service would bring to the womenfolks, would they not have regarded it as the vision of a dreamer? Yet today, with one great invention after another crowding upon us, we accept as commonplace what would have been regarded as a miracle in the past.

Automatic Storage Type

This is Not Fiction

If you have a small coal stove in your cellar to heat water for the bath and other uses, someone must make so many trips to the cellar to take care of it that in effect he or she is climbing Pike's Peak once a year to get hot water. And at that the water is not always hot when you want it.

The storage type of gas water heater requires no attention—it is automatic. It eliminates a mountain of work and worry. You turn a spigot any minute of the day or night—and there is ample clean hot water. Yet this costs you no more and probably less than the old-fashioned stove system. Come in and see a demonstration.

A general, but urgent, invitation is extended to come to these services.

The three S. S. and Church services of last Sunday were well attended, and were very satisfactory and encouraging. The morning service was followed by a congregational meeting at which matters of interest regarding the building of a Church were discussed and settled.

Our people are thoroughly alive and intensively interested in our work and prospects, and we want this zeal and enthusiasm to grow as we increase in numbers, and advance along all lines.

An Orchestra helped wonderfully with the music of the Sunday School in the morning, and the singing out of our new song book was fine.

In the evening we had a number of additions to our Choir, and Mrs. Rhoades sang a solo very excellently and touchingly. We always welcome her appearance and work among us.

Church Notes

At the Annual Congregational Meeting held last week a very encouraging report was made of the Ecclesiastical year ending March 31, 1923. THE LIBRARY BUYS RUSSIAN PLAYS

Translations of Dramatic Works Now Being Played in Philadelphia

There has been so great an interest in the Russian plays given this week at the Lyric Theatre in Philadelphia by the Moscow Art Theatre players that the Library has bought translations of the five dramas included in their program. The plays are given in Russian, and while it is said to be perfectly possible to understand the plot of the story and many of the details from the pose and gesture of the players, no one doubts that a translation into English would be of great assistance to those attending the theatre and of much interest to those who are unable to attend.

Each play is published in a separate volume, and contains illustrations in black and white of the more important scenes. "Tsar Tyodor Ivanovitch," an historical by Tolstoy, "The Cherry Orchard," a comedy, "Uncle Vanya," also a comedy, and "The Three Sisters," by by Anton Tchekhoff, and "The Lower Depths," Maxim Gorky's masterpiece, are the titles of the plays. All these may be borrowed at the Library at the regular rate.

Among other books purchased this month are the following:

"Life of Christ"....Giovanni Papini
"Paint Perfume".....Zona Gale
"Lost Ships and Lonely Seas,"
Ralph Paine
"The Clinton Twins,"
Archibald Marshall
"The Seven Conundrums".Oppenheim
"The Sea Hawk"....Rafael Sabatini
"The Fascinating Stranger,"
Booth Tarkington
"Barnum".....M. R. Werner
"The Lost Discovery,"
Baillie Reynolds
"The Marriage Verdict,"
Frank Spearman
"Mr. and Mrs. Sen,"
Louise Jordan Miln

The last named on the list is respectfully called to the attention of "Collum Righter," who so enjoyed "Mr. Wu."

A "super"-milk without an equal!

That sums up the quality of Ayrshire Milk—the product of the Penshurst Farms.

Penshurst Inspected Raw Ayrshire Milk not only compares favorably with the best certified milk, but is produced under standards much higher than those required for certified milk or for any grade of inspected milk.

This super milk comes from a herd of 200 registered Ayrshire cattle, the first herd in Pennsylvania to be fully accredited tuberculosis free by the Bureau of Animal Industry of Pennsylvania and the U. S. and now fully accredited for the fourth consecutive year.

Employees of Penshurst Farms are inspected regularly by Dr. E. C. Town, of Narberth, and are required to pass tests more rigid than are required for certified milk.

The cattle at Penshurst Farms are fed on alfalfa grown on the farm and cured by cock and cap methods, assuring an alfalfa rich in vitamins.

Ayrshire Milk is a perfect food as it comes from the cows. It needs no modifying, as its high quality ingredients are perfectly proportioned to the needs of the human body.

It is bottled on the farm promptly after milking and distributed just as promptly by Scott-Powell.

Ayrshire Milk of this class is sold in Boston and throughout New England at 35c per quart—here for much less.

If you want to make sure of the quality of your milk ask these questions:

Is it produced from a fully accredited herd?

Is it bottled and sealed on the farm?

The milk control office—Board of Health, Ardmore, Bell Phone, Ardmore 1810, will answer your questions about milk produced or sold in this district.
